Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 11 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy showers today and on Monday. Turning drier thereafter.

Today:
Scattered showers throughout the day, with some sunny spells where breaks in the cloud allow. Some of these showers could be heavy and possibly thundery. Turning cloudy through the afternoon and driest in the south. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy rain spreads in from the south to replace the showers overnight. Staying cloudy throughout but rain easing in most places before dawn. Light winds. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Monday:
Scattered showers developing again on Monday, these heavy at times, with risk of thunder and hail. Some sunny spells developing later. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Sunny spells on Tuesday, with a few lighter showers. Dry and sunny on Wednesday. Low cloud and drizzle on Thursday morning, clearing to sunny spells and dry conditions later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.